

PD. DR. RAINER GROTE

Max Planck Institute for Public Comparative Law and Public International Law

Field: Law

Biographical note

PD Dr. Rainer Grote, LL:M., is a Senior Research Fellow at the Max Planck Institute for Public Comparative Law and Public International Law. He has served as a legal adviser in the Department of Legal Affairs of the German Ministry of Foreign Relations in Berlin and taught international economic law and environmental law as a Visiting Professor at the University Panthéon-Assas (Paris II). His recent research activities have focused on the study of the impact of globalization on the constitutional and legal transformation processes in developing countries, where he has also been closely involved with several major administrative law reform projects. Recent publications cover a wide range of topics, including international human rights law, the law of regional integration as well as comparative constitutional and administrative law.

http://www.heidelberg-center.uni-hd.de/english/cv_grote.html